Hi Friends,

If transitioning in and out of remote learning were an Olympic event I think we would be in the running for a gold medal! Our students have transitioned back into school life as smoothly as expected and although we'd love to avoid remote learning, it may be a frustrating necessity for the foreseeable future. Thanks again to our families for the crucial role they played in supporting their children's learning from home.

There are a number of changes that have taken place at school to limit the risk of a Covid "incursion" in line with the DET operation guidelines. I understand and appreciate that many will have different views on these restrictions but the school has a duty of care to our staff and students that we take seriously. It is obviously a fluid space and these conditions will change as soon as we are given the freedom to do so.

Unfortunately, at this stage we have to encourage parents to not enter the school buildings. I know how frustrating this is and we can't wait until we are in a position where we can welcome everyone back in with open arms. Between Lisa, Deanne and myself we are able to walk kids to and from the car park for pick up and drop offs and greet you with a smile (covered appropriately by a mask!) Just give us a call. We are also unable to hold school assemblies at the moment, we will however, still do "student of the week" and put these on Facebook each Friday (starting next week).

You may have noticed that our school entrance is free of massive pot holes! I would like to give a huge thank you to Grant Humbert (Humbert Landforming) for giving up a day to grade and spread the gravel free of charge.

Our Prep 100 Day party had to be postponed until tomorrow due to the remote learning. We will instead celebrate it tomorrow with a Prep 103 Day party! Our prep students continue to thrive, always eager to share with me what they have learnt when I visit the classroom. Congratulations Jenny and preps for reaching this milestone. I can't wait to see the "100" projects the students have been working on.

All students in their PE classes this week and next, will be busy practising their athletic skills. At this stage we are looking forward to holding our athletic sports on Friday 13th August.

Our School production rehearsals are still taking place. We will keep you informed as to how the production is progressing and where we are at in regards to being able to hold it in September, restrictions pending.
